

A Week to my Wedding

The countdown is on to the biggest day of a couple's life...

In this new series, we join six couples with one week to go until their wedding – a week set to be one of the most intense, stressful and unpredictable they will ever experience.

Highly entertaining, emotional and uplifting, we follow the bride, the groom and their families through the mayhem, chaos and excitement surrounding the week before their wedding.

From the country couple who have 900 pigs to feed the morning of the wedding, to the New Jersey native marrying her "Irish Prince" in a huge American-style three-day wedding, the couples featured vary in religious beliefs, sexual orientation, attitudes to marriage, experience of previous marriages and socioeconomic backgrounds.

Over-stretched budgets, awkward seating plans, difficult bridesmaids and last minute changes all make this week one they will never forget!
