RESCUE:USA

Although natural disasters can strike anywhere at anytime, help from first responders cannot come quick enough for the innocent people affected by natural and man-made disasters. This new series showcases the stories of men and women who rescue victims and help restore their lives.

Hosted by ABC News' chief Meteorologist, Ginger Zee, Rescue: USA takes audiences on a journey where they witness natural disasters such as hurricanes, tornadoes, wild fires, and floods and learn more about the causes and science behind these events, while witnessing the heroic efforts of first responders across the USA.
