

Cooking for the Crown

UNCOVERING THE SECRETS OF ASIA'S ROYAL KITCHENS

Royal cuisine has intrigued many throughout the years, with royal chefs and food-tasters holding their tongues as to what has been served throughout the generations. Over the past 13 years, international chef Christian Bauer has prepared meals for many VIPs and celebrities.

In each episode of Cooking For The Crown, Christian travels to a different country to meet their royal family. Christian's objectives will be to learn what culinary delights are served and how these recipes are prepared, before finally meeting a member of the royal family.

Christian then prepares the dish for his hosts – with his own adaptation. Cooking For The Crown de-mystifies the monarchy through cooking whilst discovering how their country's unique and traditional dishes have played a part in their lives.
