

SERIES INFORMATION

Showtime • Docuseries • 60 Mins

Season 1 (4 eps)

U.S. Television Premiere: January 30, 2022

WE NEED TO TALK ABOUT
COSBY

Directly from its Sundance film festival premiere, this four-part docuseries from Emmy-winning director W. Kamau Bell (United Shades of America with W. Kamau Bell) offers an in-depth look at the revolutionary career and personal descent of Bill Cosby.

This docuseries from comedian W. Kamau Bell bravely ventures into a very complicated and nuanced area of the Bill Cosby story, not yet explored in this depth. Kamau presents an important and under-reported perspective on the legacy of one of history's most iconic African-American entertainers. It looks into whether it's possible to separate the art from the artist in the case of Bill Cosby, who was released from prison this summer after his sex-crime conviction was shockingly overturned.

DIRECTOR
W. Kamau Bell

EXECUTIVE PRODUCERS
W. Kamau Bell, Andrew Fried, Katie A. King, Dane Lillegard, Sarina Roma, and Jordan Wynn

CO-EXECUTIVE PRODUCER
Geraldine L. Porras

CBS Studios and Kapital Entertainment
Credits not final and subject to change.

