Daytime Emmy® Award winner for Outstanding Special Class Series

In each episode of LUCKY DOG, Eric Wiese takes viewers on a journey of rescuing previously hard-to-love, out-of-control, untrained dogs and making their futures bright. At Eric's training facility, with the help of his wife, Rashi, he embarks on the seemingly impossible task of turning rescues into loving pets with sound training methods that viewers can use at home to train their own dogs. In the end, a lucky family will adopt an even luckier dog. With dog adoptions soaring during the pandemic, many by first-time dog people, Eric and Rashi's expertise comes at the perfect time to help people train their new pets.

ABOUT THE HOSTS

Eric Wiese is an American Kennel Club Canine Good Citizen Evaluator, a member of the Association of Professional Dog Trainers and the International Association of Animal Behavior Consultants. Eric began his career volunteering at a local boarding kennel in St. Louis, Missouri when he was 15 years old and instantly fell in love with dog training. Eric went on to study Animal Behavior and devoted himself to shedding light on a more positive, humane and scientific way to train dogs. Eric also devoted his time to rehabilitate dogs in need, specifically German Shepherds at the Westside German Shepherd Rescue in Los Angeles. As a foster parent, he found great joy helping dogs that displayed fearful and/or aggressive behavior to improve their temperament so they could be placed in welcoming homes.

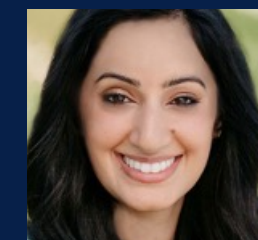

Rashi Khanna Wiese has a degree in psychology and a master's degree in social work. In 2014, Rashi met Eric and learned about the positive reinforcement training methods he used with dogs. She discovered that the logic behind these methods were similar to those she learned throughout her studies and became fascinated with dog psychology and how it could be applied to human psychology. She then decided to combine her passions for human and canine behavior and work with Eric.
