A competition series that throws the spotlight on real people who are real tough in real life as a result of their physically demanding everyday jobs, hosted by Phil Keoghan, the Emmy® Award-winning producer of *The Amazing Race

TOUGH AS NAILS celebrates everyday workers who consider the calluses on their hands a badge of honor. Competitors will be tested for their strength, endurance, agility and mental toughness in challenges that take place in the real world. One by one, they will be eliminated until the Tough As Nails winner is named, but nobody will go home. Even after they “punch out” of the individual competition, they will have the opportunity to win additional prizes in the team competitions that continue throughout the season. The series will redefine what it means to be tough, proving that it comes in all shapes and sizes.
