

SERIES INFORMATION

Paramount + • Documentary, Sports • 60 Mins

Limited Series (5 eps)

U.S. Premiere: August 5, 2021

The five-part original documentary series examines the uncensored story of the 1992 Men's Olympic Basketball Team and the long-lasting cultural impact of how the once-in-a-lifetime super team changed sports on a global scale forever

DREAM TEAM is inspired by Hall-of-Fame sports journalist Jack McCallum's New York Times Best Selling book "Dream Team," which explores the global growth of the NBA on the heels of the Dream Team's international success. DREAM TEAM uses rare archival footage and explores original unheard audio interviews from Michael Jordan, Charles Barkley and Larry Bird among many more, while featuring recent interviews from Dream Team and NBA legends including Magic Johnson, Patrick Ewing and David Robinson among others. The documentary series builds a cultural history of basketball, tracing the evolution of the NBA leading up to the 1992 Olympics and its ensuing growth into the second most popular sport on Earth.

DREAM TEAM

{BIRTH OF THE MODERN ATHLETE}

DIRECTORS

Emmett Malloy and Brendan Malloy

WRITER

Sam Sweet

PRODUCERS

Justin W Cooper, Daniel Pappas, Ari Schneiderman, Mike Sarkissian, Brock Hay and Ian McGee

Paramount Television Studios
Credits not final and subject to change.

